I. THE JAGIELLONIAN UNIVERSITY'S CENTER FOR POLISH LANGUAGE AND CULTURE IN THE WORLD – SHORT PRESENTATION

Dear Prospective Students,

We warmly welcome you to study at the Jagiellonian University in Kraków, where courses of Polish language and culture have been offered to foreigners for several decades.

The Jagiellonian University's Center for Polish Language and Culture in the World is one of the most important Polish academic institutions for foreign students. We offer intensive one-semester and one-year programs, summer courses that last several weeks, and a wide range of courses and programs organized in collaboration with Polish and foreign partner institutions.

Courses at the Center are led by specialists qualified in teaching Polish as a foreign language. They study methods of teaching Polish as a foreign language and prepare relevant textbooks and dictionaries. Our team creates and implements innovative and, above all, effective teaching methods. We have been pioneers of the communicative approach in teaching Polish as a foreign language. Currently we offer a task-based method promoted by the Council of Europe, which is based on learning through activities. A group of our employees, led by Professor Władysław Miodunka, participated very actively in preparing Polish state certification exams, and have taken part in administering the exams since they began in 2004.

Learning the Polish language will always be one of the most important aims for the foreigners studying at our Center. However, through the additional courses that are offered, they also have an opportunity to learn about Poland – its history, society, culture and literature.

Although most of the students at the Center are foreigners, there is also a group of Polish students here, learning how to teach Polish as a foreign language. The presence of Polish peers at the Center gives foreigners who are studying here additional opportunities for direct contact with Poles, allowing them to gain a deeper understanding of Poland and Polish people. Cultural events and field trips also help the two groups of students to integrate.

Another great virtue of studying with us is the city of Krakow itself – a magical place that is often referred to as the cultural capital of Poland. The Center is located in the very heart of the historic city, at the foot of Wawel Hill on which sits the Royal Castle, a symbol of the Golden Age of Polish culture. Our Center is only a few hundred meters away from the Old Town Square, which constantly bustles with life. Studies at the Center are an interesting combination of the traditions of the oldest Polish university, the knowledge and experience of the Center's staff members, and their passion and enthusiasm for creating modern, interesting and effective teaching methods. Graduates of our programs praise their diversity and effectiveness, while at the same time emphasizing the unique atmosphere of the place itself in which they have the opportunity to study. You have the opportunity to join them soon – we warmly welcome you.

Waldemar Martyniuk, Ph.D. (Hab.)

Director of the Center for Polish Language and Culture in the World

ACCOMMODATION

The Center for Polish Language and Culture in the World has a limited number of spaces for students in three student dormitories: “Żaczek” at al. 3 Maja 5, “Bydgoska” at ul. Bydgoska 19, and “Piaśt” at ul. Piastowska 47.* If you are interested in staying in one of them, please tick the appropriate box in the application form. The moving-in period usually begins 3 days before the beginning of the program. Due to the limited number of spaces in the student dormitories, we are unable to guarantee that all interested people will receive a dormitory room. We will do our best to meet your needs, and will inform you via e-mail if a reservation has been made for you.

Students receive accommodation on the basis of personal referrals from the coordinator of programs for foreigners through USOSweb. People who have received confirmation of being granted a space in a dormitory should report to the office of the dormitory from Monday to Friday, from 8:00 am to 3:30 pm.

Important: When moving into a student dormitory, it's necessary to have proof of identity (a passport or ID card), a photo of yourself that will be used for a resident card and some Polish money to pay a deposit as well as the fee for one month of accommodation in advance. Both the deposit and the monthly accommodation cost in the 2017/18 academic year were 385 PLN. In the 2018/19 academic year, there may be a slight increase in this price.

* The allocation of places in student dormitories in the 2017/18 academic year is subject to change. Information concerning all changes will be posted on our website: www.polishstudies.uj.edu.pl

Important: We kindly ask those who are planning to arrive in Krakow on the weekend or during the evening to inform us of this by e-mail (polish.for.foreigners@uj.edu.pl). This will allow us to reserve accommodation for you in the hotel section of the dormitory. We would like to emphasise the importance of taking care of formalities connected with accommodation in the rooms reserved for participants of the Polish language program as early as possible.

The deposit will be returned when a student moves out, if there has been no damage to the room. The rooms are equipped with basic equipment: beds, tables, bookshelves, wardrobes, lamps, a telephone, TV and internet connection. Internet service is included in the price of the dormitory fee. In the student dormitories there are kitchens, but they are not equipped with dishes, pots or appliances. When moving in, every student can take bedding from the storeroom (a pillowcase and bedsheet) as well as curtains. The bedding and curtains can be changed every 3 weeks. The rooms contain blankets and duvets, pillows, lamps and telephones; the dormitory does not supply towels. There are no refrigerators in the rooms.

On the grounds of the student dormitories there are also student hotels where students' parents and friends can stay for a reasonable price, as long as there are rooms available.
